

LIMITED BOSTON TELEPHONE SERVICE NEXT YEAR

A limited service, offering Wilmington residents direct telephone service to Boston, will be available by August 1, 1965, according to a report made to the Board of Selectmen Monday night.

Ed Toomey, Lowell manager of the New England Telephone Company said that the plans for Wilmington service had been speeded up at the insistence of Selectman John Brooks.

The service will be to Boston, and not from Boston, Toomey said, and will be only for residential subscribers, and not business subscribers.

Calls made by business subscribers, and calls made from Boston to Wilmington will be on a regular charge basis, the same as at present, Toomey told the Selectmen.

New Building

The new telephone building now being planned for the Wilmington Square area, will be ready on Aug. 1, 1965, Toomey said, according to present plans of the telephone company.

It will be a dial office, and will connect in back with the present telephone company building on Church Street. The front of the building will face Main Street, on the new vacant lot opposite Poole's Bakery. The expected cost is $225,000 for the building, which will be of brown brick, with four columns of limestone, showing in the front. The building will have some extraordinary standards, - a floor strength of 175 pounds to the square foot, an average ceiling height of 13 1/2 feet, and will be completely air conditioned. The bays and frames will be cut, (pre-fabricated) by Western Electric. The humidity will be controlled, and the building will be dust free.

New Rates still Unknown

Toomey told the Selectmen that, as of the present, he did not know what charges would be made to local resident subscribers for the new proposed Boston service. He said that residents could have their choice as to whether they preferred a 'local' service (as at present) or the 'Boston' service.

The 'Boston' service, which he called 'Extended' service, will be, he said, on a flat rate.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING AT END OF SUMMER

As a result of a report by Supt. of Schools Harold S. Shea, there is a possibility of a Special Town Meeting in the last of August or early September, for the purpose of voting funds for the construction of a new Intermediate School, at the end of Carter Lane.

Shea reported to the School Committee last night that he had made two visits to the State Building Assistance Commission, and that the preliminary work of preparing the 'educational specifications' for the new school has been completed.

The Permanent Building Committee and architect John Guarino are now working on plans for the new building, expected to cost in excess of $1,000,000.

Shea is asking for 15 classrooms, of 750 to 800 square feet, as is in the North Intermediate School, and for other rooms for library, gymnasium, etc to make a total of 22 rooms.

He told the committee that he did not know whether or not the Permanent Building Committee would use the North School plans or do otherwise.

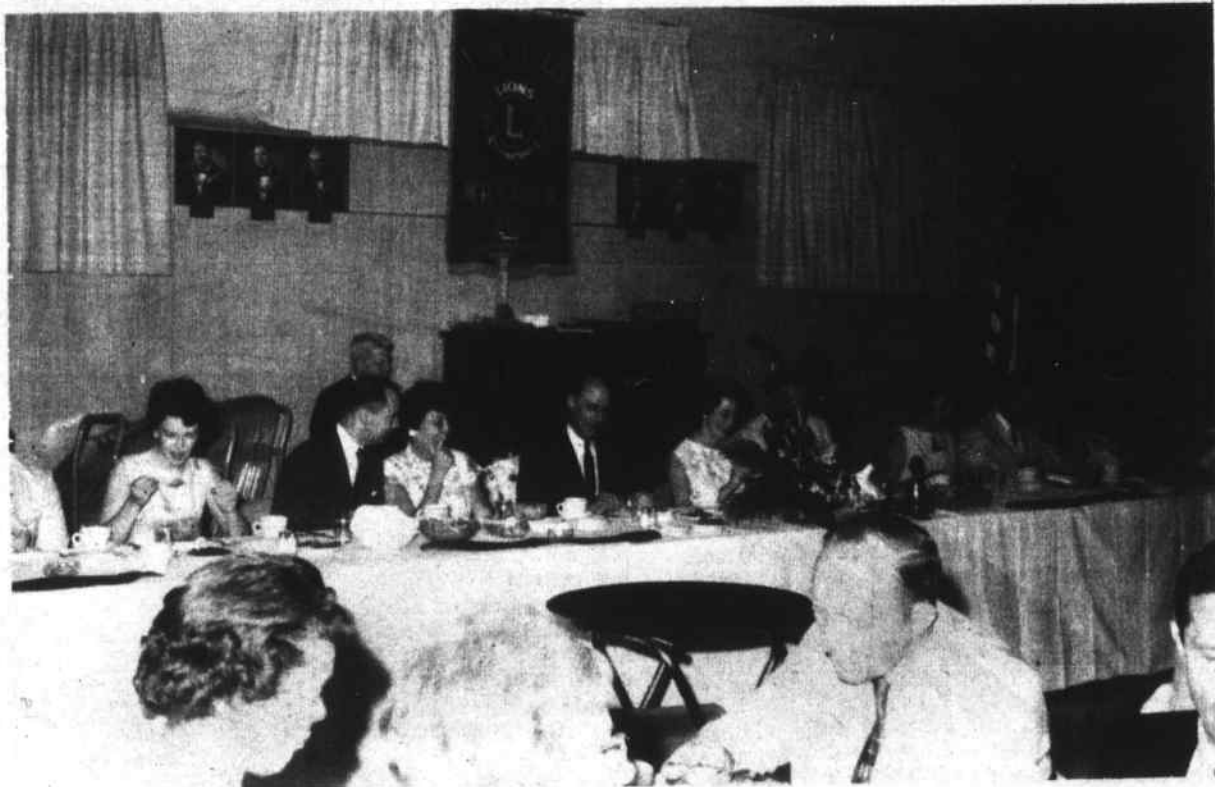

He hopes that the 15 classrooms will be ready for the first of September 1965, and told the School Committee that he felt it was important that this be kept in mind. It was more important, he said, that the classrooms be finished in time, even if the cafeteria and were not ready for the day that school was to begin, the children, he said, could carry lunches for a while without harm.

Shea also reported that he had given a letter to the Permanent Building Committee drawing their attention the second time to the necessity of acquiring land in the area of Shawsheen Avenue and Hopkins Street, for an additional school site..

LETTERS

June 15, 1964

Dear Larz:

For many months now I have read with some concern your running battle with another local newspaper which you constantly refer to in your articles as the 'throw-away.' Up until now I shrugged off some of your cutting remarks as simply a matter of business competition and consequent antagonism.

However, your front page article last week was a little more than I could stomach. While it is understandable that you would be somewhat elated by a business triumph, it seems to me that this kind of thing can be carried just a little too far. When you consider that the businessman in question is a local resident, and that his family meet other local residents face to face daily, your jubilation in print over his financial problems seems to lack utterly any sense of human compassion or even professional integrity. From an 'award winning' paper, I think we Wilmingtonites have a right to expect more than this.

Here's to better things from the Town Crier.

Your friend,
Terry Clay Thomason
Pastor, Wilmington
Methodist Church

Dear Terry:

You are right! That front page article was not worthy of the Town Crier. It was written in haste, just before press time, and now can be repented at leisure.

We offer our apologies to you and to our readers, and to Mr. Skantz, for a poorly conceived and written article.

Dear Sir:

Since Mr. Bouchard mentioned building a new library building to the Board of Library Trustees, everyone in Wilmington seems to have a personal opinion as to which of the three or four possible sites is the best one. And that is all these opinions are so far--personal! I am waiting to hear a professional voice speak.

'It is a cultural crime to locate a public library for any other objective than to serve the greatest number of readers, adult students, and information seekers, that is, at the point where greatest volume of service can be given at the least cost.' I am quoting from page 556 of 'Practical Administration of Public Libraries,' by Wheeler and Goldhor To beautify the town by using the Common area, to put municipal buildings together for togetherness sake, are not good enough reasons to decide upon a site for a new library building! Which site is best? Is it one, perhaps, not yet thought of?

I think the problem should be put to a professional in the library building field--a library building consultant. Since this new library will be the first and last in Wilmington for some time, I urgently suggest a small amount of money be spent for professional advice. I am sure the Board of Library Trustees would be among the first to admit that they are all laymen regarding library work, and that the guiding hand of a professional who has not only library service experience but also library building experience would be of great value.

Our neighboring town of Burlington hired a library building consultant to work with the trustees regarding all phases of their new $365,000 library building. Mr. Schmuck, Head Librarian of Belmont, who resides in Reading, advised the Burlington Trustees on site, size, design, floor-plan, etc. The town of Belmont is currently building a $700,000 library so it must be assumed that Mr. Schmuck has library building experience. The Division of Public Libraries in Boston could furnish other experienced library building consultants names and also some idea of the fees involved.

Let us do this once-in-a-lifetime job in a correct manner and back it up with all the available knowledge we can obtain.

Sincerely,
Evelyn M Norton

TOWN NOTES

You've Met?

Selectman Lloyd Bender, who returned home Tuesday afternoon after having his toe amputated at the Winchester Hospital still had a sense of humor.

One of the first to call on Bender was former Principal Assessor, and right after him came TM Jerry Bouchard. Jerry didn't recognize Stan's car, because Stan is now driving a different one. The confrontation took place in the living room.

'Jerry' said Bender, 'I believe you've met Stan Webber?' Jerry had just one word: 'Yes'

Rumor

A couple of weeks ago the Town of Andover got rid of its Town Manager. The Selectmen just did not vote to reappoint the gentleman after his three year term of office. Now they are looking for a new TM.

We cannot vouch for this story, but we have it on good authority that two of the persons who have applied have their home addresses in ---- Wilmington!

REQUEST FOR CONTINUING SERVICE AT NORTH WILMINGTON POST OFFICE.

A letter from Congressman Brad Morse, read in the Selectmen's meeting Monday night, reported that a petition, signed by over 1500 residents of North Wilmington, requesting that the order to discontinue the office be rescinded, has been delivered to the Post Master General.

THE 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF FATHER FRANCIS MACKIN

The Rev. Robert Smith of the First Baptist Church was guest of Father Edmund Croke, PP.

FATHER MACKIN with Altar Boys, after the service.

St Thomas Church, Sunday afternoon was completely filled, with people of all faiths, friends and neighbors, who came to hear the 25th Anniversary Mass of the Rev. Francis W. Mackin.

Father Mackin was assisted by the Rev. Father Edmund Croke and the Rev. John E Foley of Immaculate Conception Church of Cambridge. The service lasted over an hour, and was accompanied by fine choir music. Luigi Vena, soloist, sang 'Ave Maria' and Ave Maria.

The tribute to Father Mackin was read by the Rev. Paul H Hennessey of St. Gregory's Church, in Dorchester.

Protestant and Catholic Clergy joined in the tribute.

After the Mass a buffet supper was served, and this was followed by an entertainment, in the High School, in which Father Mackin was given his ticket for the anniversary trip to Rome, by the Altar Boys of St. Thomas.

EXCHANGES GREETINGS: With Mrs Robert E Sanders of the Congregational Church. Her husband stands beside her.

BOARD OF APPEAL DECISIONS

The Board of Appeals, Monday night, granted four appeals, heard recently, and amended a decision made earlier this year, on two 75 foot lots on Burt Road.

The amendment deleted a paragraph requiring that the appellants submit their final plan of record for endorsement by the board. The case (5-64) was heard on January 21st, on application of Marcus Greenstein of Swampscott and Jon M Graham of Burlington, with Simon Cutter Esq. representing them.

(Ed. Note: The Town Crier, reporting the Planning Board meeting last week, confused this case with a similar one for Mr. Cutter, on property where his house stands, on Church Street. The error is regretted.)

Frederick and Mary A McEvoy of Kiernan Ave were granted the right to construct a carport adjacent to their home, with a 10 variance on the side yard requirements. The case was heard on May 19th.

Stevens Flower Shop, at Wilmington Plaza, was granted a variance for their sign, in a case that was heard on April 28th.

Edward Roynane of 31 South St Medford was granted the right to make an addition to a home at 12 Brattle Street, in a non-conforming variance.

The case was heard on May 5th. Willard Perkins, 270 Main St. was granted side and front yard variances for six lots of land on South Street, near Lake Street. The board noted that the lots had been of legal size when they were 'laid out' and conformed with zoning requirements of the SRB zone.

There had been no opposition in any of the four cases granted by the Appeal Board.

DISCUSSION OF FENCE AT BOUTWELL SCHOOL

Complaints of neighbors, about children from the Boutwell Street school trespassing in back yards were discussed in the School Committee meeting, last night.

The school committee plans to bring the matter to the attention of Town Manager Gerald Bouchard and request that a fence be built, if the Permanent Building Committee is unable to do anything about a fence.

A SURPRISE ANNIVERSARY: For the Rev. and Mrs David Wuori of the Forest Street Congregational Church, last Saturday, at the occasion of the first annual picnic of that church. It was their fifth wedding anniversary.

Born in Boston, Mrs. Richards had made her home in South Tewksbury prior to her marriage to the late Richard Richards.

She had been employed as a nurse at the time of her death.

Besides her parents, she is survived by her brother Alfred Yoku-bonis of Stoughton.

BOARD OF HEALTH WANTS DE CAROLIS INFORMATION

The Board of Health, Monday night, informed James De Carolis of Tewksbury that it wanted 'percolation' tests on every lot, of the 25 lot De Carolis Estates, in the rear of the Woburn Street School.

Chairman Gus Walker stated to De Carolis that, in cases where two lots were obviously very similar, a percolation test might be enough for both, depending on the judgement of the Town Sanitarian and Public Health Officer. Walker said that some of the land in the proposed development was 'sub-marginal'.

In addition to Board of Health members the meeting was attended by Selectmen and Planning Board members. Only Selectman John Brooks and Planning Board member Bob Evans spoke, of the two boards.

Mr. De Carolis objected strongly saying that he was going to alter the levels of the proposed development, and that the percolation tests should be taken after the new levels had been established. He proposed that about half a dozen tests would be satisfactory at the present time.

Walker and Mrs. Boylen, of the Board of Health said that they had spent a couple of hours on the property that afternoon, and that there were places at the 118 foot level where children went skating. He felt that the proposal by De Carolis to level the property by transferring land from the high spots might mean putting rocks and peat in the low spots, and did not entertain any proposals other than that the percolation test holes be dug down to the proposed levels of the development.

'Mr. Romano (the Public Health Officer) will be perfectly willing to work with you' Walker told De Carolis, and later added that the Board of Health was not requiring 'anything novel of you'.

BOARD OPPOSES SUB-STATION SITE

The Wilmington Planning Board, Tuesday night, opposed a proposal of the Reading Municipal Light Dept. to erect a sub station for the distribution of electric power, in a site off Main Street, near Wilmington Square.

The Light Department, represented by Gen Manager Hector Glanoscol, Board Chairman Winifred Spurr, Clayton Downes, and Atty J Warren Killam Jr.

The new sub-station, the Board of Appeals was told, was planned to be located alongside the B&M tracks, and just south of the Burlington Avenue bridge.

It was the point where there were four power lines meeting, and the station was designed for the growing power needs of the area, Glanoscol told the board.

The costs were estimated at $70,000, which, together with wire costs from the Boston Edison lines would make the total costs about $185,000.

The Reading light exhibited a picture of a similar station which had been installed very close to Lynnfield common, with evergreen trees planted close to a chain link fence. The Wilmington substation would look like the Lynnfield one, they said.

It was, they told the board, the best service for the community where it was needed. The rated capacity of the sub-station would be 13,800 kilovolts.

James Banda and Bob Evans of the Wilmington Planning Board objected to the site, and asked that the sub-station be placed elsewhere. Banda asked to be recorded as 'strongly in opposition' saying that a transformer right at the entrance to the town square would be 'definitely a deterrent'.

Evans called it a 'monstrosity' and doubted if the transformer could be hidden by the foliage, if it were placed as proposed, in the hollow below the bridge and Main Street.

He admitted that the signs now on the site, which the Reading light plans to remove 'were eyesores' 'which we have tried to have removed' and cited further that the town had tried unsuccessfully to beautify the place.

Wilmington merchants, Evans told the board, now have come forward with a plan for the area, and he hoped that they would be able to accomplish what the government could not.

Evans was taken back a bit when shown the picture of the Lynnfield sub-station, but resumed his attack saying that the industrial land for the area was on the other side of the railroad tracks, and that the sub-station should also be there.

Mr. Glanoscol told the board that in order to locate on the other side the Reading Light would have to obtain easements from the Boston and Maine Railroad, to have power lines under the Burlington Avenue bridge.
